Register Namespace

Please use this form to apply for the registration of a namespace for a module you have written or are going to write. The request will be sent off to the modules@perl.org people who are maintaining the Modules List. A registration is not a prerequisite for uploading. It is just recommended for better searchability of the CPAN and to avoid namespace clashes. You will be notified when the registration is approved but you can upload immediately, there's no need to wait for an approval. On the contrary, you are encouraged to upload immediately.

If you are facing any problems with this form, please report to modules@perl.org.
Thank you for registering.

Name of the module

Please try to suggest a nested namespace that is based on an existing root namespace. New entries to the root namespace are less likely to be approved.

Module List Chapter

The module list has all modules categorized in chapters. Please pick the one you would prefer to have your module listed in.

Development Stage (Note: No implied timescales)

Support Level

The module list says about the flags n and a:

n - None known, try comp.lang.perl.modules

a - abandoned; volunteers welcome to take over maintainance

Public license

This field is here to help acquiring solid data about which licences the CPAN modules are subject to. Filling in this form field is not a substitute for a proper license statement in the actual package you are uploading. So please verify that all your uploaded files contain a proper license. This field will be used to help certifying the legal status of your package.

Standard-Perl denotes that the user may choose between GPL and Artistic,

GPL stands for GNU General Public License,

LGPL for GNU Lesser General Public License (previously known as "GNU Library General Public License"),

BSD for the BSD License,

Artistic for the Artistic license alone,

Artistic_2 for the artistic license 2.0 or later

open-source for any other Open Source license listed at <http://www.opensource.org/licenses/>, distribution_allowed is for any license that is not approved by www.opensource.org but that allows distribution without restrictions, restricted_distribution is for code that limits distribution somehow, and no_licence is for code that bears no licence at all.

The last two items on the list might become a problem for CPAN in the future, so please try to clear things up to avoid them.--Thanks!

Description in Module List (44 chars limit)

Plack adapter for SOAP::WSDL::Server

Places where this module has been or will be discussed publicly

Mailinglists, newsgroups, chatrooms, CVS repository, etc.

Prepan (<http://prepan.org/module/nXWJ8Y9sBmM>)

Modules with similar functionality

If any related modules already exist on CPAN, please let us know and discuss the relation between your module and these already existing modules below. Enter just the module names, separated by whitespace.

SOAP::WSDL::Server SOAP::WSDL::Server::Mod_Perl2 SOAP::WSDL::Server::CGI

Rationale

Please discuss your reasoning about the namespace choice, the uniqueness of your approach and why you believe this module should be listed in the module list. Especially if you suggest a new rootlevel namespace you are required to argue why this new namespace is necessary.
